ELLIOTT PHONES BEING CUT INTO SERVICE BY COOP

Patrons In Elliott Now Getting Local Telephone Service

The first of Elliott county's 225 telephones in the new dial system of the Mountain Rural Telephone Cooperative were placed in operation for local service Monday.

The first phone cut in for service was in the Lewis & Ferguson Funeral Home in Sandy Hook Monday morning. Ten others were placed in operation the same day, and the work of cutting in all phones in Elliott will proceed rapidly.

Elliott county members of the three-county co-op are the first to get telephone service, but the service in Elliott for the present will be purely local service. Members are being issued phone numbers as soon as the phones are installed and a temporary directory for Elliott county is being given members. Thus, they can enjoy local service wholly within the county from now until the entire system is completed about August 30, Woodrow W. Barber, manager, said Monday. The local service to Elliott patrons will be free until the entire system is placed in operation.

All pole lines have been completed in Elliott and inside wiring and drops also are about finished. Each Elliott phone is being cut into the system as soon as it is installed.

Meanwhile, workers began on Monday building the five trunk lines between Sandy Hook and the central exchange at West Liberty. In addition to these five trunk lines, Sandy Hook's exchange will have three direct connections with Morehead, but these are to be installed later.

Exchanges at Campton and at Hazel Green are almost finished and inside wiring at exchanges at West Liberty and Ezel is now under way.

The entire three-county system should be ready for operation by Aug. 30, Mr. Barber said.

The system is being set up to serve a total of 1,325 subscribers in Elliott, Morgan and Wayne counties. It is important that persons who have not yet signed up for a phone but may want one place their applications for phones at once, since the initial construction that may be needed to serve any more patrons may require from three to five years.

Mr. Barber said it is imperative that the central office know immediately of others who may want phones.

Each member of the co-op who has paid his full $37 equity and membership fee is now being issued a $10 membership certificate and a $27 capital equity certificate. The $27 certificate is a stock certificate in the co-op and is not to be construed as an error in the amount members paid in. The other $10 represents the membership fee.

Mr. Barber said also that persons should inform the telephone linesmen what type of service they want when the linesmen come to their home to install phones. They have the choice of a business phone, a direct home phone or a two-, three- or four-party line.

RATTIE RITES AGAIN!

Rattie Mann

Well! everybody be proud! Look who's back with the good old Licking Valley paper. Rattie says she just couldn't stay away from her good friends in Morgan county. "I be so happy I feel like I come home," she writes this week from her home on the 38th Parallel at Korea, Ky. "Oh it bin quite a spell since I bin blessed to come back to Licking. MORGAN SCHOOLS TO LOSE $15,362

Morgan county schools will receive $15,362 less this year than last from the State school per capita fund.

This was made known Tuesday when State Superintendent Wendell P. Butler announced that the public school per capita this year will be $37.51 for each child of school age, 6 to 18.

The $37.51 per capita is 60 cents lower than last year, although the total fund being distributed is the same.

Reason for the drop: there are 10,942 more school-age children in Kentucky this year than last. The per capita fund is calculated by dividing the total of school age children, whether or not they are in public schools, into $26,212,500.

Morgan county's school census shows 4,122 children of school age. At the $37.51 rate, this will entitle the county schools to $154,628, a decrease of $15,362. Morgan's loss in census is 338 children since last year.

However, in addition to the $26,212,500 per capita fund, the state will distribute later $8,573,000 to poorer districts in the state of the new "minimum foundation" program. The program was enacted by the last legislature after voters ratified the plan at last November's election.

Nearby counties that will lose school funds this year include: Elliott $7,660; Johnson $4,427; Lawrence $2,762; Magoffin $10,108; Wolfe gains $2,256 and Menifee gains $297.

NEW ROAD OPENS FORGOTTEN AREA

By BERNARD E. WHITT

Wednesday morning about ten o'clock a.m. Judge Reed Halsey asked me to ride with him to a new road the county maintenance crew is building, as he wanted to see how they were getting along.

We left the highway at the old Malone school building and traveled up the branch, passing the homes of Estill Steele's mother, Cal Jones, Roger Lykins, Acton Nickell, Ed Gillum, Dorsey Elam, Denzil Elam and the Boone Lacy farm now owned by Carl Whiteaker of Malone.

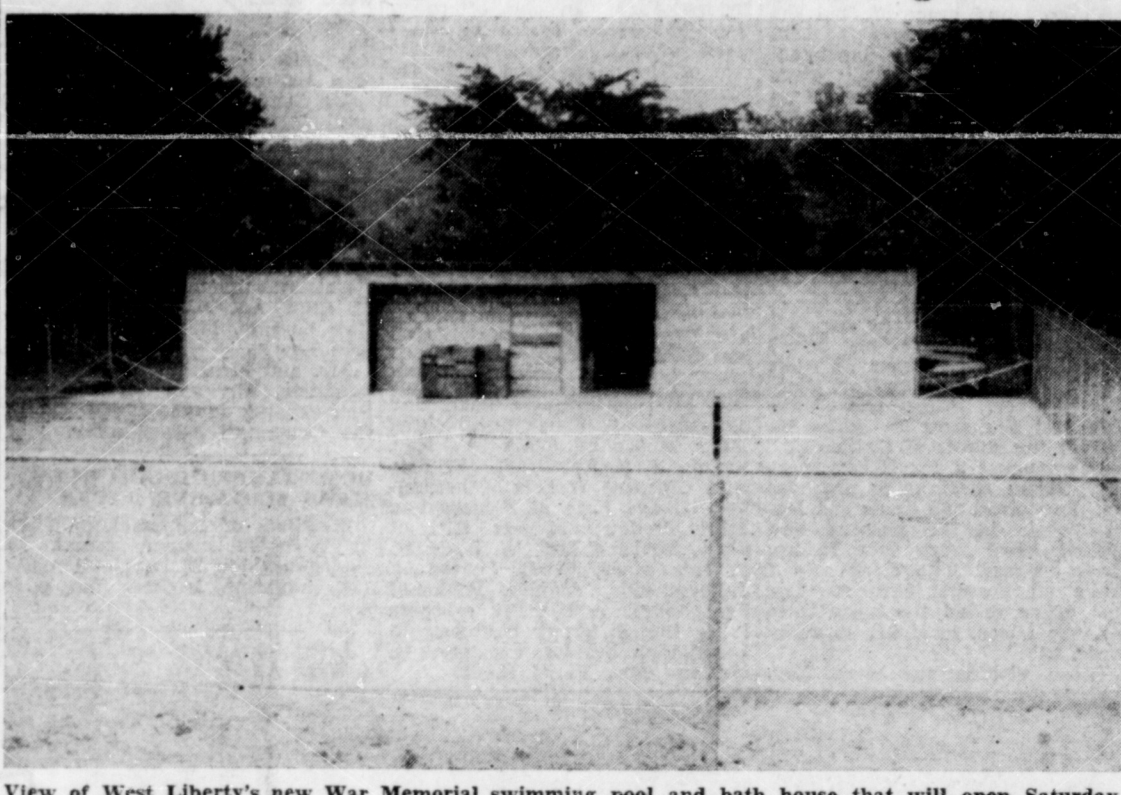

I was almost amazed at the work that had been done by the crew in about a week. The road up the Steele branch passes the old place of Wilkes Steele, the first surveyor of Morgan county. When I last traveled this road years ago on a mule the road was in the branch and over rocks in which only a jeep could make it.

A good grade has been made, the branch turned to one side and we traveled at 40 miles an hour. A good grade across the divide which is only a bank has been made and passes down the Elam branch to the farm once owned by Judge Bill Caskey, now owned by Denzil Elam, to near the mouth of the branch. A new road and change has been made close to the foot of the hill and on high ground far above the river and a good road bed has been provided. When we arrived the were eating lunch. They were Arkie Patrick, who perates the bulldozer, the crew of Lee and Roy Halsey.

Judge Halsey indicated to me the distance they had made since he visited them yesterday and it certainly was proof that the men know how to operate modern road building equipment and are using it efficiently. Judge Halsey said they will continue building the road up the river to connect with the grade that had been built two years ago down

West Liberty's New War Memorial Swimming Pool To Open Saturday

View of West Liberty's new War Memorial swimming pool and bath house that will open Saturday.

WILL BE DEDICATED AS WAR MEMORIAL SOME TIME LATER

Cash Outlay $11,800;
First Tickets To Be Sold Saturday at 10

West Liberty's public swimming pool—a product of everyone chipping in to build a community project long needed—will be opened officially Saturday morning at 10 o'clock slow time.

The pool, a 40x80-foot reinforced concrete project with a concrete block bath house at one end, was rushed to completion this week. Water was turned on Thursday night and the pool will be filled Friday morning. However, Friday will be used to check the qualifications of the lifeguards employed and to give them extra instructions.

The first ticket to use the pool will be sold Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, Dr. Alec Spencer, chairman of the finance committee, has announced. And a large crowd is expected to be present for the opening.

The pool, however, will not be officially dedicated until next year when board walks on the earth fills on two sides of the pool are completed. It will be officially dedicated then as a county memorial to the war dead of Morgan county.

A diving board and ladders were installed Thursday. Plastic curtains and showers already have been installed in the bath house and wiring of the building is now being completed.

At a meeting of the pool committee last Friday evening, Glen Stanley was named as manager of the pool. In addition to managing the pool, Mr. Stanley will supervise swimming classes five mornings a week.

Other workers named were Mrs. Stanley, who will be in charge of concessions and tickets, and the following youths who will be lifeguards: Richie Stacy, Jerry Franklin, Larry McKenzie and Earl May, Jr.

In addition to the contributors listed in last week's Courier, the following have made donations: Edward Keeton, $25.00; Curtis Elliott, $25.00; Leonard Elam $2; Billy Elam's store, water cooler; The 5 & 10 Cent Store, Pauline Blair, 8 dozen towels; G & H Fruit Co., $25.00 worth of chewing gum and candy and will give more later; Clifford Elam, electric clock.

In last week's list, the amount of $250.00, given by West Liberty Hospital, Inc., was unintentionally omitted.

Also, the committee wishes to announce that Ormond Lewis of Pamp donated all the lumber to build the 12-foot walks around the two sides that could not be concreted. The other two sides have 12-foot concrete walks. The pool and bath house are enclosed in a high cyclone fence built on iron posts.

Sponsored by the West Liberty Kiwanis Club with the cooperation of other local organizations and citizens, the project has been a community and county cooperative effort with scores of individuals, businesses and groups chipping in to do their part.

The Holly Coffee Post American Legion donated $500, a pie supper netted $313.32 and the May carnival brought in $842.16. Contributions also have come from some former residents and from some rural groups, plus a few from Sandy Hook.

Morgan Man Named Chief Revisor of Ky. Statutes By the State

FRANKFORT, Ky., June 28—James Arnold Tyler, 32-year-old member of the legal staff of the State Revenue Department, has been named chief revisor of Kentucky statutes.

Tyler will succeed Robert W. Meagher, Louisville, who resigned June 16. The decision to employ Tyler was made by the Legislative Research Commission at its meeting here Friday.

Tyler is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Tyler of West Liberty. He attended Morehead State College from 1940 until 1942, when he joined the Army as a B-17 gunner.

In 1946, Tyler entered the University of Kentucky, graduating from its Law School in 1949. He joined the legal staff of the Revenue Department that year, serving as attorney since. He is married and has three children.

TIME TO APPLY FOR ACP IN 2ND PERIOD

Kentucky farmers who need assistance in carrying out conservation practices during the summer this year should file applications for federal cost-sharing aid through the Agricultural Conservation Program during the next weeks.

ACP assistance may be requested at any time before the practice to which it is needed is started on the farm. County requests for the requests on summer practices will be announced by county ASC committees.

Requests for ACP cost-sharing aid to date, according to preliminary reports, total $4,617 for the year, 50,766 of these being requests for assistance on spring practices.

All farmers are eligible to ask for federal cost-sharing assistance on practices to be carried out during the remainder of the year.

Assistance is available only on practices included in county programs, but these usually include most of the following practices in the 1954 Kentucky ACP: Initial establishment of (1) permanent cover of perennial legumes or perennial grasses, (2) perennial or biennial legumes or perennial grasses on cropland, (3) contour strip-cropping on non-terraced land, (4) permanent vegetation to stabilize and protect dams, gullies, and field borders, (5) orchards, vineyards, bush fruits, strawberries, or perennial vegetables on the contour, (6) crimson clover, hairy vetch, or annual ryegrass for winter cover, (7) annual lespedeza and cowpeas for summer protection from erosion, (8) sweet clover for green manure and protection from erosion, and (9) contour farming.

Initial treatment of cropland with lime; initial improvement of (1) established permanent grass or legume cover, and (2) forest (Continued on page four)

One Man Killed, Another Injured In Wreck On 460 At War Creek

Scene of the wreck that killed John H. McClure and injured Douglas Brown at the store of Doris McGuire at mouth of War Creek. After leaving US 460 (not shown in picture), the car swerved into the field shown at bottom of picture, then hurtled across the War Creek road and landed atop the store porch. Its wreckage may be seen on the ground between the store and building at right.

Car Crashed On Store Porch Top From Rural Road

John H. McClure, 26, of Grassy Creek, was killed instantly and his companion, Douglas Brown, 24, of West Liberty, was critically injured Sunday morning about 7 o'clock when McClure's car crashed into a building at the mouth of War Creek five miles east of West Liberty.

Apparently unable to make a curve on US 460, the car swerved off the highway and into a field at the intersection of the War Creek road, then hurtled across the War Creek road and hit atop the roof of a porch on the store of Doris McGuire and toppled back to the ground. The car was demolished and a part of the store porch was damaged.

McClure's body was found under a building at the rear of the McGuire store about 25 feet from the wrecked car. He had been killed almost instantly from ribs that were broken and that punctured a lung and other injuries.

Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Brown of West Liberty, was found unconscious on the store porch, his head having hit the front door of the store. He was rushed to the West Liberty Hospital for emergency treatment and then taken to St. Joseph Hospital. His condition, while still dangerous, was reported improved Thursday. Surgeons repaired torn ligaments in his shoulder and arm, but he still remains unconscious from brain contusions.

Relatives of both men were away on vacations at the time. Brown's parents had left the day before on a motor trip to California, and they were not located until they reached Carlsbad, New Mexico at 3 p.m. on Wednesday. They immediately took a plane and flew back to Lexington to be with their son at the hospital, arriving there Thursday morning at 9:30.

McClure's sister, Mrs. Delmar Lacy, with whom he lived in Dayton, Ohio, and Mr. Lacy, also had left Saturday on a vacation to Oklahoma. They were contacted Monday and returned in time for the funeral of McClure.

Funeral for McClure was conducted Wednesday afternoon at the home of his parents at Grassy Creek by Rev. Charles Frederick and Rev. A. C. Bradley and interment was made in the Lacy Creek cemetery under direction of the Potter Funeral Home.

McClure was born at Logville Sept. 20, 1926, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Reb McClure who now live at Grassy Creek. He had been discharged from Army service a month ago after serving in Korea and was working for Delco Corporation in Dayton, Ohio. He came to Morgan county Saturday, bringing the children of his sister, Mrs. Delmar Lacy of Dayton to the home of her parents while she was on vacation with her husband in the west.

Mr. and Mrs. Lacy were intercepted in Tulsa, Okla. Monday noon and drove back to West Liberty, arriving Tuesday evening and in time for the funeral.

McClure is survived by his parents and the following brothers and sisters, Clyde McClure of Elamton, Jean and Carroll at home, Mrs. Rube Williams of West Liberty, Mrs. Mattie Lacy of Dayton, O.

TONY LAW OF ZAG DROWNS IN POND

Tony Law, 52, of Zag was found drowned in a farm pond about 500 yards from his home Sunday morning.

He had been missing since 2 p.m. Saturday and a search was made in the surrounding woods and fields. His clothes were found near the pond Sunday morning. The pond was drained and the body found. A coroner's jury pronounced the death due to accidental drowning.

Funeral services were held at Zag church Tuesday at 2 p.m. Survivors are three sons and three daughters: Orville, Harold and Carl Law of Zag; Mrs. Dovie Howard, Mrs. Alberta Whitt and Mrs. Loula Keeton; two sisters, Mrs. Lizzie Barnett of Clearfield and Mrs. Carrie Sargent of Ohio. Burial was made in the family cemetery under direction of the West Liberty Funeral Home.

FREE X-RAY UNIT HERE JULY 20TH

Free chest x-rays will be available to Morgan countians July 20 when the Tuberculosis X-ray Mobile Unit of the Kentucky State Department of Health visits West Liberty.

The unit will be parked in front of the courthouse square from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. All persons over fifteen years of age are urged to make sure they do not have tuberculosis by having a chest x-ray. The service is being made available through the cooperation of the Kentucky State Department of Health, the Morgan County Health Department and the Kentucky Tuberculosis Association.

According to the local health department, tuberculosis took at least 1,017 lives in Kentucky last year.

Nearly half of all new cases of tuberculosis in Kentucky are being discovered through these mass x-ray programs, he said. The units tour throughout the state and approximately 170,000 persons get chest x-rays annually under the program.

Persons under fifteen years are x-rayed only if they are known to have been in direct contact with persons who have tuberculosis or upon a physicians referral as the tuberculosis rate among this younger group is quite low.

Lewis Descendants To Aid DAR In Unveiling Soldier's Grave Marker

Revolutionary War Soldier's Grave To Be Marked July 11

Descendants of a Morgan county Revolutionary War soldier, Thomas Lewis, will participate in the unveiling of a DAR marker at his grave at Pomp Sunday, July 11, by the Morgan County chapter Daughters of the American Revolution. The ceremony will start at 2 p.m.

Lewis, one of the progenitors of the large Lewis family in this region, was buried in the Lewis family cemetery at Pomp. The cemetery is on a beautiful wood-covered knoll on the farm of Ormond Lewis.

Clyde Lewis of Ashland, great-grandson of the early soldier, will act as master of ceremonies at the unveiling of the marker. Mrs. Reed Pritchard of Ashland, a great-great-granddaughter, will unveil the marker, and Mrs. William Howell of Mt. Sterling, another descendant, will place a wreath on the grave. Henry Wells, great-great-grandson, will present the history of family, tracing the line back to Meriwether Lewis of the Lewis and Clark expedition.

Frank Lewis, 96, a grandson of Thomas Lewis, will give a history of the family, and Mrs. Clara Allen will lead in giving the pledge to the flag.

Mrs. W. E. Bach of Lexington, State DAR Historian, will place the flag on the grave.

The Morgan county DAR chapter will conduct its ritual, Mrs. Katherine Amox of Grassy Creek is regent, Mrs. C. L. Stacy is chaplain and organizing regent.

Lewis was born May 3, 1755, married Hannah Hopkins in Virginia and migrated to Kentucky after the Revolutionary War. He served during the war in Company A of Col. A. Campbell's Regiment of the Virginia Militia.

He died in Morgan county in 1849. The grave and the original stone marker were located by members of the Lewis family and the DAR chapter. The letters cut on the grave marker were clearly legible and the stone is being set as a permanent marker also.

This will be the second Morgan county Revolutionary War soldier's grave the local DAR chapter has marked.

The writer wishes to say by the mercy and grace of God she was able to return home the 26th after being in Good Samaritan hospital since June 13. While there she underwent two operations, minor surgery on the 15th and major the 17th for cancer of the breast. God was so gloriously with her, lifting all pain and soreness and giving her peaceful rest. The doctors said it was beyond their power. While on the operating table I sang, What A Friend We Have In Jesus, Blessed Assurance, Kneel At The Cross, and I'll Fly Away. As the gas mask was placed over my face I repeated the 23rd Psalm. I woke singing and calling for Rev. Clarence Walker. Praise His Name. He's just the same as when He walked the shores of Galilee. I'll return August 3 for X-ray therapy. Please continue to pray for me. I received 305 cards and letters while in the hospital and several more were sent to my home address. The clerk said I broke all hospital records. The post office called the hospital to see who I was, receiving so many cards.

Those visiting me were Rev.

Miss Carolyn Carter, Mr. Lewis Norton
United in Marriage at Louisa June 12

Editor's Note—The following account of the wedding of Miss Carolyn Carter is from last week's Big Sandy News at Louisa. The bride is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Asa Carter of Cannel City.

In an afternoon ceremony held Saturday, June twelfth, at the Louisa Methodist church, Miss Carolyn Carter, only daughter of Dr. Joseph E. Carter of Louisa and the late Mrs. Carter, became the bride of Lewis Franklin Norton of 2898 Washington Boulevard, Huntington, West Virginia.

The Rev. Charles Perry performed the single ring ceremony before an altar centered with an arch holding tall white tapers, with branched candelabra at intervals on each side, against a background of palms and tropical greenery. A large arrangement of white gladioli, chrysanthemums and carnations stood in the center of the chancel. Huckleberry foliage and white tapers marked the windows of the sanctuary.

Preceding and during the ceremony Mrs. Anna Mary Armstrong, church organist, played a program of nuptial music, and William Thomas Hinkle sang "Always, I Love Thee, Because, and The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white peau d'ange lace and nylon tulle over satin, with a fitted lace bodice styled with a high neckline edged with appliques of the lace, and long sleeves pointed over the hands. The full tulle skirt was gathered to a pointed waistline, and marked by appliques of lace in a peplum effect with deep cascades over the hip-line. The skirt terminated in a cotton train. Her fingertip veil of imported illusion was attached to a half hat of satin edged with pearls, and she carried a white orchid and stephanotis in a show-er of satin ribbons on a white Bible.

Mrs. Joseph Carter, Jr. of Louisville, was matron of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Shirley Shine of Louisville and Misses Sally Patton and Elizabeth Ann Thompson of Louisa.

The honor attendant wore a formal of blue bermashan styled on princess lines, gored from the top of the strapless bodice to the hemline of the full skirt, which was made with a slight dip in the back. Folds of matching fabric were inset at the scalloped edge of the bodice, and the skirt was cut up in a scalloped effect in center front. She wore a matching bolero jacket and a bonnet of illusion with a bow in back, edged with velvet flowers. The bridesmaids wore similar costumes in the same color. All carried crescent bouquets of white carnations with satin ties and streamers.

Wilbert H. Norton was best man for his son, and ushers were J. Bernard Poindester, Jr., Paul D. Hayman and Wilbert H. Norton, Jr., all of Huntington, and Joseph E. Carter, Jr., of Louisville, Ky.

Little Miss Christine Carter, niece of the bride, was flower girl in a pink net full length dress over taffeta and fashioned with a high neckline. She wore a bonnet of matching material and carried a basket of pink and white rose petals.

Master Craig Mosher served as ring bearer.

The bride's grandmother, Mrs. C. S. Jackson of Louisville, wore a dress of navy lace with matching accessories and a white orchid corsage. Mrs. Norton, mother of the groom, wore a moonstone blue dress and hat, and a corsage of pink cymbidium orchids.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlor. The bride's table, covered with a Maderia linen cloth, was centered with a five-tier wedding cake and a bouquet of chrysanthemums, white gladioli and carnations and flanked by lighted candles in silver holders. Assisting were Mrs. L. Wayne Wooten, Mrs. James B. Hughes, Mrs. Luther Lycan, Mrs. Robert W. Vinson, Mrs. Russell Dubyns, Mrs. J. J. Jordan, Jr., Mrs. Leslie Wellman, Mrs. James Q. Lackey, Sr. and Mrs. Clyde Daniel.

When the couple left afterward for a wedding trip to White Sulphur Springs and Virginia Beach, the bride wore a redingote costume suit, with a white print dress made with a high neck and short sleeves, and a flared coat of red wool, white accessories and a white orchid and stephanotis corsage. Upon their return they will make their home in Louisville.

The bride is a graduate of Louisa High school and attended Marshall College in Huntington, where she was a member of Alpha Xi Delta sorority. She is associated with the advertising department of Colgate-Palmolive Company in Louisville.

Mr. Norton, a graduate of Hampton Sydney College, did his post-graduate work at Marshall College. He is serving in the United States Army at Fort Knox.

SWIMMING POOL IS FINE EXAMPLE OF COOPERATIVE EFFORT

West Liberty has literally lifted itself by the bootstraps in building the fine swimming pool that is to be opened to the public Saturday. No other town of comparable size that we know of has such a fine pool—at least none that was constructed without a bond issue or assessment or some type of outside help. Ours is the product of self-help, built as a community and county-wide project with everyone chipping in to do their bit.

The cost also has been exceedingly low, only $11,800 in cash outlay. But the pool has much donated material, labor, etc. in it. And the contractor charged only cost on the project. Actually, the pool is worth much more than $11,800.

Sponsored by the Kiwanis Club with the help of several other organizations, cash contributions, have paid for all but $3,500 of the cost, and a note for the difference has been executed, which we know will be liquidated by a community with such fine civic spirit as ours.

Members of the finance committee, composed almost entirely of Kiwanians, did almost the impossible in raising the $3,500 already contributed.

The pool is to be supervised by a committee of citizens representing several organizations. In charge will be a manager and life guards to see that those who use the pool will conform to rules set by the committee. This committee is well aware of the proper care and regulations necessary for such a public recreation center and will insist that they be carried out.

Sometime in the future the pool will be dedicated with proper ceremonies as a war memorial in tribute to the soldiers of Morgan county of all wars.

West Liberty and Morgan county have done themselves proud in this cooperative project and we feel our citizens will be so proud of their project that they will always keep it in good condition, operated on a high plane and help make it one of the best recreation centers in Eastern Kentucky.

SWIMMING POOL

in cash outlay, plus much donated labor, materials and hauling, etc., all but $3,500 of the needed cash has been contributed by individuals, businesses and organizations. Contributions ranged from 10 cents to $500.

The West Liberty Lumber Company was contractor and did the work practically at cost, thus saving considerable expense.

Others who helped are Licking River Limestone Co., donation of gravel; Kentucky Road Oiling Co. hauling sand; Earl Tredway, alias E. Price and Burten Stacy, engineering work; Arthur D. Bach, hauling sand; Roy Elam, operating bulldozer.

Classes Start Tuesday

Swimming classes taught by Coach Stanley will be commenced next Tuesday. The schedule for classes will be—
Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of each week:
9 to 9:30 a.m., boys 6 to 10
9:30 to 10 a.m., girls 6 to 10
10 to 10:30, boys 11 to 16
10:30 to 11 girls 11 to 16
Fridays of each week, 9 to 11 a.m., adults of all ages.
Although parents or someone over 18 must be with children when in swimming, parents are not required to be with children when they are taking swimming lessons.

The committee set up to regulate operation of the pool, is composed of representatives of the church and civic organizations in West Liberty. They are: Alec Spencer, chairman; Alvin Evans, Wendell Nickell, Ralph Walter, W. G. Ratliff, Major Gardner, Stanley Blair, Aleene Long, Helen Wells and Helen Price Stacy.

TEACHERS FROM FLORIDA

Mr. and Mrs. Garland Frisby of Fellsmore, Florida are visiting in Morgan county this week. Mr. Frisby has been principal of the school at Fellsmore for eight years and Mrs. Frisby is one of the teachers. He said Florida has the Minimum Foundation program for education and he thinks that one of the finest things Kentucky has done for schools.

Mr. Frisby has an AB degree from Morehead, a Master's degree from the University of Kentucky and has worked on his PhD degree. Mrs. Frisby is also a graduate of the University of Kentucky. His two daughters are college graduates, one with a Masters degree from the University of Kentucky. His daughter, Glenna's husband is Dr. Billy Brashear; they live at Gainesville, Georgia. His other daughter, Lorna's husband, Jack Fraley is with Civil Service in Detroit, Mich., where they live.
Mr. Frisby said Fellsmore, about the size of West Liberty, is in a sugar refining district.

IN MEMORY

Of Mr. and Mrs. Burns McGuire Mother, it will be four years August 15 since you left us, and Dad, you left us three years ago June 28. The years have passed, but the memories linger on. What precious parents you were to help us through sickness or anything you could do. You were always kind and true to everyone you knew. But God took you in His care, so you could have no pains and suffer here no more. But it's so lonesome here without you, Mom and Dad. But I know you are resting where you will have no more troubles. And you're in a better place than this. There is a vacancy in our home that no one can fill. I have lost you here on earth, but our loss was heaven's gain and I hope someday we will meet again where there will be no parting and where death will never enter—Sadly missed. A Daughter, Anna.

NEW ROAD

the river from the Gordon Ford. When we mentioned the road up to the Gordon Ford, Estill Steele said, "I don't want you town slickers to pass here going to the Gordon Ford to catch the big catfish."

There are several hundreds of acres of fine river bottom land in this bend of Licking River and it has some of the finest fishing waters in all the river. It is the old trail that men traveled on their way to and from the county seat.

The old roadway has grown up, and one would have to crawl through bushes to travel it. It is a beautiful country and there are some mighty nice spots where one could take their family for a picnic dinner and go fishing.

While our main highways and State and Federal roads serve great streams of traffic, bearing products of farms and factories in snub nosed monster trucks, yet in sections like this, almost unknown to anyone except those who live here, can be found farms and homes where quietness and happiness and contentment reign.

These people are given an opportunity to go and return and buy and sell in the marts of trade and add to the needs of other people and secure their own without being isolated. Roads are the corner stones of progress and good citizenship.

ACP PROGRAM

tree stands; planting or interplanting forest trees; controlling competitive shrubs on pasture lands;

Constructing (1) ponds for livestock water, (2) terraces to check erosion, (3) diversion channels to intercept and divert runoff water, and (4) permanent open drainage systems;

Establishing permanent sod waterways; and installing tile drainage systems.

In several counties, assistance also is available on special county conservation practices; and aid may be provided to two or more farmers to meet a common conservation problem through use of a "pooling agreement."

(For convenience in allocating 1954 ACP funds, counties have divided the year into three budgetary periods. Deadlines for filing applications for cost-sharing aid in each of the budgetary periods are announced by county ASC committees; but farmers may request assistance on any practice included in county programs at any time before the practice is started on their farms.)

DOG CLINIC

Plans are under way at the Morgan County Health Department to have a rabies immunization clinic for dogs to be held at the court house yard during the first week of August. A state approved veterinarian will give the rabies vaccine.

Mrs. McCann To Meet With Business School Students On Saturday

Miss Mayme McCann of the McCann Business School of Maysville will be in West Liberty Saturday early in the afternoon to meet with prospective students who want a special secretarial course. Miss McCann will meet with applicants for the course in the court house.

The advertisement inserted in the Courier two weeks ago stating a business school would be taught in West Liberty if sufficient students applied, brought "a fine response," Miss McCann said this week, adding, "I will meet with them in West Liberty Saturday and hope others come out to learn about this special course."

Morgan County Farm Home of the Week

ATTRACTIVE IN ANY SETTING

FARM AND RANCH Plan No. 5252 is compact, simple and economical to build. The wide overhanging, open eaves protect the walls and windows from most rains so that you can leave the windows partially open for ventilation. The brick and vertical wood sidings offer a pleasing variety of textures.

The car port, back porch, and hall storage area give minimum cost and maximum service. This area need not have a ceiling. The exposed framework will be very attractive when painted. We have used the car port because most people do not close the garage doors, anyway. The doors alone would cost from $100 to $150.

Storage space for clothing or materials that are used outside is off the rear entrance hall. The back porch will be a delightful place to loaf during warm summer days. It may be screened if you wish.

Seldom do you find a house with three bedrooms, two baths, separate dining room, and workroom area, which is both cozy

SEGREGATION IN KY.

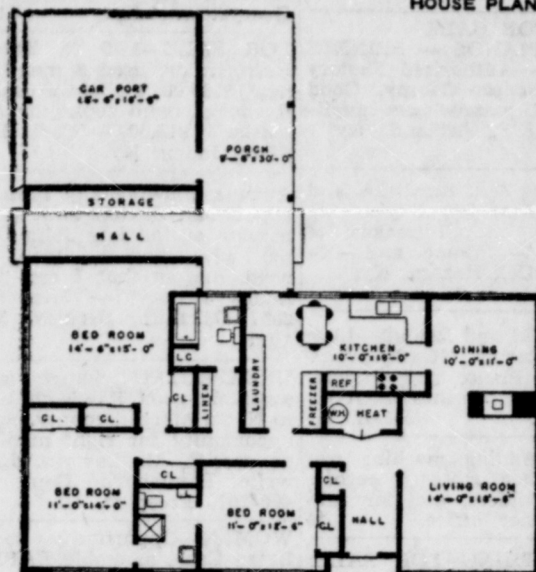

FRANKFORT, Ky., June 28—Kentucky's public school system will continue to operate for the coming school year under the past policy of race segregation, the State Board of Education advised all school superintendents in the State.

It pointed out, in a directive to all school officials, that the decision of the Supreme Court outlawing segregation had not yet become effective—that further arguments are scheduled during the fall to determine the manner and method of carrying forward the Court's decree.

Meanwhile, the Board concluded that, until the decree is formally issued, that it should observe the mandates of Kentucky's Constitution and laws enacted in its support, requiring separate school facilities for whites and negroes.

HOUSE PLAN No. 5252

and spacious like this one. All areas have more than adequate closet space.

The unusual fireplace will make a very attractive separation between the living and dining areas. When you have a fire you will be able to enjoy its pleasant warmth from either area. The large closets off the front hall is an excellent place for a forced hot-air heating system. It is centrally located, enabling you to use very short metal hot-air ducts. If you put louvered doors on the heater room, the hall can serve as the return air path.

You can obtain prints for this FARM AND RANCH House Plan No. 5252 and a handy list of materials by which you can figure your construction cost accurately. Send $2.00 to Building Editor, Farm & Ranch, Nashville, Tenn., Dept. E-89. Order by number—plan 5252. Blueprints are adequate for any farm carpenter or any farmer handy with tools.

FISHING NEWS

Bernard Whitt, Fishing Editor

Jake Littler of Royalton got a four pound bass Sunday. He said he could reel it in and had to pull it out in the field to land it. The fish weighed by Ben Allen at his store and Ben verifies the figures. Ben is considered truthful. However, we have often been disappointed in men who will not cheat, wrong or defraud in business or ordinary affairs, yet when it comes to fishing they are very reckless with the truth.

Miss Lula Allen landed a 13 inch bass in the Kelly Whitt pond with crayfish for bait.

Garland Frisby said that when he first went to Florida an old lady told him when to go fishing. To go when it was South Moon. He followed her advice and caught 27 fish. He recommends the South Moon for fishing.

H. D. Potter, West Liberty undertaker, and his family returned Tuesday from a week's vacation. Part time Mr. Potter said he fished in Lake Sinclair, Mich. Two men by his side caught 150 fish and he caught 54. When asked about the limit, which he said was ten fish, he explained to lawyers Blaine Nickell and Ralph Walter, and W. O. Pelfrey that when they catch ten fish, they take them in and go back and get ten more and so on. He offers proof that the fish are in his deep freeze at home. If this story gets into the hands of the game warden in Michigan, he is advised that it is a fish story, pure and simple.

Chalmers Allen told the editor he caught a 3 pound bass at Dewey Lake and the next day he told Gerald Gevedon it weighed five pounds. Gerald said it seemed impossible for some people to tell the same tale each time.

Ralph Brown of Salyersville, SCF educational advisor of SCF, sent us the following story from Fontana Village News, Fontana, N. C., about Mr. and Mrs. Orear Elam, former Morgan countians, who operate a boat dock at Fontana. It seems that fishing at the lake was a little slow, so Opal took Orear on a short fishing trip. When they returned Opal had a trio of largemouth bass to exhibit, Orear none. The three bass totaled 19 3/4 pounds. They were caught on spring lizards.

Son of Ira Nickell Gets Distinguished Flying Cross Award

First Lieut. James M. Nickell, son of Atty. and Mrs. Ira M. Nickell of Ashland, was presented the Distinguished Flying Cross for heroism in Korea at the Army Air Force Base at Westover, Mass. where he is presently stationed. Lieut. Nickell completed 50 combat missions over North Korea during the recent war and returned to the United States in July 1953. He had previously been awarded the Air Medal with two Oak Leaf Clusters for participating in raids on Old Baldy, Heartbreak Ridge, Finger Ridge and others.

At present he is assigned to the Military Air Transport Service at Westover. For the past eight months he has been flying a C-124 C transport, largest transport plane in the world. His flights have included Labrador, Iceland, Greenland and recently England and France.

Lieut. Nickell's father is a native of Morgan County and a brother of Atty. J. Blaine Nickell of West Liberty.
